dry

Vogelsang

TASTING NOTE

Shaped by a rare, steep shell-limestone site, this Grand Cru reveals a profound, multi-layered aromatic profile of ripe cherries, cassis, and subtle forest-floor notes, interwoven with hints of smoke and fine spice. On the palate, it unfolds with a fresh, stony, and precise Burgundian character, underpinned by taut tannins and cool minerality. A Pinot Noir of rare inner tension, impressive scope, and a lingering finish.
